

Family Office Practice

Attorneys in C&G's family office practice understand the unique needs of high-net-worth families and individuals and help them navigate the complexities inherent in creating and maintaining multi-generational enterprises, investment structures, and legacies. No two families are alike, and our representations are tailored to the unique requirements of each client.

Operating from London, New York, and Paris, our multidisciplinary team offers a comprehensive range of legal and advisory services, including advising on:

- family office structures and investments
- multi-family offices
- strategic transactions
- tax issues
- employment matters
- art law and restitution
- privacy and data security
- reputation management
- regulatory compliance and litigation avoidance
- commercial disputes
- and, when absolutely necessary, defense against investigations or prosecutions.

We are well-versed in key jurisdictions including the Cayman Islands, Jersey, and Luxembourg. Our attorneys are impeccably credentialed and recognized in leading directories including Spear's Legal Index, Chambers & Partners, and The Legal 500. With decades of experience, including at premier hedge funds, the UK Serious Fraud Office, the Bar, and top global law firms, we deliver consistent, high quality service across the types of matters our clients are likely to face.
